EDUCATIONAL TOUR - (MUNNAR & KANTHALLOOR)

NAME A. SAMARSHINI
CLASS I B.Sc (CDE)

DATE 29.7.2025

The journey of Kanthalloor was equally exciting. The jeep ride through the forest trails, hilly terrain and narrow roads made the trip adventurous and fun. The scenic views and fresh mountain air were unforgettable. The clam environment of Kanthalloor was ideal for reflecting learning and bonding with classmates. We understood how environment based learning can both fun and impactful.

ENVIRONMENTAL AND STANDARD SOCIO-ECONOMIC EFFECTS

- Adoption of sustainable fibres means saving water, limiting chemical pollution, carbon emissions and community support for livelihoods in rural areas, especially through handloom and artisan communities. Promoting slow fashion and durability also has the effect of going against fast fashion waste.

FUTURE SCOPE AND AVAILABLE RESEARCH DIRECTION

Ongoing research in the development of new natural fibres, eco-friendly processing technology, better dyeing solutions and adoption of circular economy perspective would boost the sustainable capabilities in India textile and fashion sectors. Traceability and visibility of the supply chain can be supported, and also can be made more scalable through digital tools and processes.
