RELATIONSHIP

Relationships are harder
now because conversations
became texting, arguments
became phone call, and
feeling became subliminal
message Online. Sex became easy. The Word
"Love" gets used out Of context; insecurities have become your way of Thinking. Getting jealous became a habit, trust has been lost. Cheating became lost.
Cheating became the only option
being hurt became natural.

PLAY WELL YOUR PART

A renowned orchestra group was rehearsing under a highly renowned music conductor Sir Michael Costa, for one of its major recitals. Hundreds of artists, playing various instruments, performed as one, following the directions given by the music conductor.

Halfway through one such session piccolo player in the orchestra thought, “What difference does my piccolo make amidst so many instruments here? If I stop playing, nobody will even notice it!” So, he kept the piccolo close to his mouth, but didn’t play it. Within moments, the conductor cried, “Stop! Stop! Where is the piccolo?”

The able music conductor could sense the missing sound of a single piccolo among a hundred other instruments. The musician realized that every single part of a symphony has its own part to play to make it successful.

No performance is complete until we all play our individual parts to the best of our abilities!
